"DJ" is the first European film depicting the phenomenon of DJing and club music culture from the perspective of a woman. The main protagonist is a beautiful, ambitious and talented woman who lacks faith in herself. Mini enters the great world of club music - often ruthless place, in which it is easy to lose and give up on your values. It's a hermetic environment dominated by men. Will a woman be able to find her place there? How much will she have to devote and how far will she go to achieve success and satisfy her own ambitions? Will she give up her values and exceed her own limits? Does music, which she loves and draws strength from, will eventually destroy her?

The club can house over 10,000 people which was recorded in to the Guinness Book of Records. There is also a swimming pool and an open roof. The sound system itself is worth $ 6 million. One of the stars of the above events is DJ UNER, who was also involved in the film as a composer.
